

CALIFORNIA SPECIAL GOES INTO A DITCH; MANY DEAD

THE WRECKED CARS BURN

Thought That None of Passengers in Tourist Car Escaped with Their Lives—Engine Jumped Track.

Trenton, Mo., Dec. 31.—The California Special on the Rock Island road, which left Chicago for California last evening at nine o'clock, was wrecked three miles north of this city this morning and the number of dead and injured has not yet been ascertained.

Cause Not Known

The cause of the accident has not yet been learned. The train was running at a high rate of speed when the engine jumped the track and landed in a field fully fifty feet away from the right-of-way.

Pullmans on Fire

The two Pullman sleeping cars that broke away from the rest of the train immediately caught fire and added to the confusion of the scene. It was thought at first that none of the passengers in these cars could be saved, but later it was reported that all escaped but with many injuries.

Tourist Car Burned

Immediately following the accident a rescue party headed by trainmen and the passengers uninjured made brave attempts to rescue the more fortunate. They succeeded in doing so with the Pullmans, but the extreme heat prevented them from helping all in the tourist cars out of the danger zone.

But Two or Three Escape

A full list of the dead can not be obtained, but it is known that but a few persons escaped from the tourist cars, the remainder of the occupants being burned to death in the fire which destroyed the entire cars. The following is a partial list of dead and injured.

The List

The dead are: Freeman O. P. Lininger of Trenton, recently of Eldon, Iowa, scalded and burned to death and four passengers, unidentified. The injured are: Engineer W. A. Milling of Trenton; William H. Kautz of Chicago; J. Z. Gering of Iowa, leg broken, head cut; Steve Howard, Alabama; C. E. Spencer, Dallas, Texas; J. C. Childers, Anderson, Ind.; Mrs. Nancy Hamersley, Letts, Iowa, may die; Julius Middlemore, Boston, Mass.; David Egeol, Cleveland, Ohio, probably fatal.

Only Three Dead

Chicago, Ill., December 31.—An official report received by the Rock Island railway into this afternoon says that only three persons were killed in the Trenton wreck.

WOULD LIKE BUT ONE IN CONTEST

LA FOLLETTE DEEPLY INTERESTED IN GOVERNMENTAL CONTEST.

IS TO MOVE CAUTIOUSLY

Wants to Take No Steps Which Can Be Construed to Be in Contravention of Primary.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 31.—Definite moves in regard to the republican gubernatorial situation on both sides of the republican factional fence are to be expected very early in the new year. As far as the La Follette people are concerned there can be no question that United States Senator La Follette intends giving this question very serious attention during his present visit in Wisconsin, and although there is no question that there is a possibility, in event of there being two or more candidates in the field whose repudiation is of the progressive stripe, that the senator may not take any very active part in the campaign but remain neutral as regards the campaign of candidates from his own following, still there can be no question that he intends obtaining all the information possible in regard to the situation and of doing all in his power to aid his own senatorial candidacy through the situation, and also the issues which he represents.

Will Discuss Conference Plan.

Friends of both State Senator Morris and former Dist. Atty. F. E. McGovern will be called to Madison to discuss the situation and it is likely that Senator La Follette will talk over plans with them for a conference of halfbreeds to decide if possible which shall make the run. It is likely the plan which has been proposed of each candidate selecting an equal number of representatives from the congressional districts and allowing these men to make the progressive gubernatorial choice will be talked over with a view of deciding whether such a plan would prove a feasible way for collecting the members of a conference whose decision shall be final in the matter. Supporters of Capt. Mitchell Lewis of Racine will also be asked to meet the senator and their views on the conference question will also be obtained with an idea of deciding whether through the medium of a conference a final solution of the problem is possible or whether such a conference will merely serve to complicate matters.

Will Move with Caution.

Senator La Follette believes that the interests of the La Follette people can be best conserved in Wisconsin by only a single candidate bearing the La Follette name.

Will Move with Caution.

He, however, recognizes that it is a cardinal principle of the primary election law that anybody has a right to run for office who may desire to do so.

A Prayer for 1910

Today is New Year's Day. A year of my life lies untouched before me—mine to make what I will. A year from today I shall be looking back and asking myself what I have done with that year—what I have achieved.

Help me on that day to be able to answer, "I dare not say what I have achieved, but this I know, that with all my heart I have tried—to care more for being than appearing good; to think more of being lovable than being loved; to be as well fortified as I could against evil and yet to enjoy each happy day with all my heart even though I knew that evil was near; to feel a personal responsibility for any wrong in the world that I could help to correct; to be as tolerant of other people's sins and weaknesses as I was intolerant of my own; to be contented with my lot but healthily discontented with myself; to cultivate that fine pride that forever keeps one above vanity; to compare my achievements not with the achievements of other people but rather with my own highest possibilities; to so live that I may pass along to those who come after me as high a standard of living and ideals as I received; and last but not least, to cultivate every day and every hour that humble and yet crucial quality—the fine art of being good to live with."

FAITHFUL EMPLOYEES GET LARGE BONUSES

Wall Street Exchanges, Banks and Brokers Hand Out Fat Envelopes On New Year's Day.

New York, Dec. 31.—The Wall street employee was a man to be envied today. In accordance with a custom which is so old that none can tell when it originated, the exchanges, banks and brokerage firms closed the year with the distribution of rewards to faithful employees.

Some of the banks and trust companies distribute the bonuses the day before Christmas, but the big majority of the firms adhere to the custom of handing out fat envelopes on the last day of the year, enclosing at the same time a little card telling the recipient the amount of his salary for the coming year.

SIXTY-FOUR MORE MINING VENTURES

Madison, Wis., Dec. 31.—Sixty-four companies, mostly mining ventures, were added today to the list of investments held by Phil Allen, Jr., the wrecker of the Mineral Point National bank. These stocks represented from $100 to $200,000 each.

SARATOGA BANKER KILLED IN A WRECK

New York, Dec. 31.—Spencer Trask, a banker, was killed in a rear-end collision on the New York Central at Groton today. Mr. Trask was on route to this city from his home in Saratoga and was killed in a collision between a freight train and the Montreal express.

MAN WAS INSANE; VERDICT OF JURY

Attacked His Brother—Sent to Insane Asylum.

Oakbrook, Wis., Dec. 31.—A commission appointed by the court to examine the mental condition of John Grunke who recently attacked his halfbrother, Gustav Grunke, and nearly killed him, has reported that the man is insane and instead of being tried in court will be taken to the northern state hospital for the insane at Whitefish Bay.

Grunke attacked his brother while the latter was getting a load of hay on a farm and hit him over the head with a pitch fork, fracturing his skull. Gustav Grunke has been in a serious condition at St. Mary's hospital and is gradually recovering.

ESTRADA REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE MADRIZ SELECTION.

Nicaraguan Situation Continues to Be Unsettled—More Fighting Probable.

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Dec. 31.—General Estrada remains firm in his determination not to recognize the presidency of Madriz. He holds that the election of the latter by congress was illegal and that the people of Nicaragua have not yet spoken.

He has refused all offers of peace through a compromise from the authorities at Managua and is continuing his preparation for a campaign against the capital.

HEDGER'S DEFENSE PRESENTED TODAY

Milwaukee Man to Make Gallant Fight For His Liberty.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 31.—That Ward E. Hedger and his wife lived happily together instead of constantly quarrelling as the state has tried to show, will be one line taken by the defense in its attempt to show that someone besides the defendant might have killed Mrs. Hedger. This much of the defense was disclosed by Francis J. McGovern for the defense in his opening statements to the jury which was begun before the noon recess of the trial today. Mr. McGovern in support of his contention said that he would show that property in the northern part of Milwaukee and in Manitowish owned by Mrs. Hedger had been given her by her husband, to offset the state's contention that the defendant's desire to acquire it as being responsible for the murder.

BANK ROBBER SHOT; OTHERS CAPTURED

Harrah, Oklahoma the Scene of Daring Attempt to Loot Bank.

Harrah, Okla., Dec. 31.—One robber was shot and killed and two more injured, one fatally, when surprised by the police while trying to rob a bank at Harrah today. Two of the wounded men were captured.

NO SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE IN SIGHT

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—When the first conference over the switchmen's strike ended at 12:30 today nothing definite had developed. The whole situation was discussed and documents examined.

It is understood that the crux of the situation is the refusal of the railroads to renege 2,500 men still out, although the railroads claim a willingness to employ them in case of vacancies.

1909 WAS BANNER YEAR FOR THE RAILROADS

Equipment Purchases Indicate a Remarkable Era of Prosperity Has Dawned.

Chicago, Dec. 31.—Evidenced by figures made public by the Railway Age Gazette the closing year has been a prosperous one for the railroads of this country.

From the figures it is also apparent that the railroad officials see an era of increased earnings dawning, for more than three times the amount of operating equipment was purchased this year than in 1908.

Although the mileage construction is not equal to some previous years, notably 1906, the equipment purchases are noteworthy.

More than $60,000,000 was expended by the American railroads in the purchase of locomotives and $51,000,000 to fully equip the large lines with proper passenger coaches. Nearly 200,000 freight cars were taken out of the shops and put into commission.

The finances of the year were reflected in the number of roads forced into receiverships.

Last year only six roads accepted receivership. The mileage affected was $50, the funded debt $30,549,000 and the stock valuation $47,540,000. In 1909 the number of roads accepting receivership was 24; mileage affected, 8,000; funded debt, $271,000,000; stock, $325,000,000.

PLANS NATION-WIDE BOYCOTT.

National Anti-Trust League Aim to Lower Prices.

Washington, Dec. 31.—Plans for a national boycott of those combinations that increase the cost of living were laid here, when the National Anti-Trust league was launched. Members of congress are interested in the new movement, and immediate steps will be taken toward perfecting state organizations.

Then, when prices soar, the league members, by stopping the use of such articles or commodities as have gone above legal level, will put them back again by refusing to furnish a market.

The plan is one that was tried in Germany a few years ago and which, according to report, broke up a combine in coffee that had raised the price of the bean to almost prohibitive levels.

PRESIDENT TO HOLD MONSTER RECEPTION TOMORROW MORNING

Will Receive Diplomats, Cabinet Officers, Government Officials and Common People.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—The President and Mrs. Taft will hold their first New Year's reception at the White House tomorrow, beginning at 11 o'clock, when the Vice President and members of the Cabinet will be the first to extend their greetings to the Executive. They will be followed by the members of the Diplomatic Corps, the Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, the District, Judiciary, and former members of the Cabinet, members of Congress, officers of the army, navy, and marine corps, various patriotic societies and, last of all, "the plain people."

The custom of the President holding a public reception on New Year's Day is so old that no patriarch of the "oldest inhabitants' association" can remember a January 1 when there was not a snake-like column of humanity, headed by an orderly phalanx of high officials, waiting to shake hands with the President.

Aside from the big function at the White House there are always numerous other festivities to make the first day of the year a brilliant occasion in the national capital. It is the custom for the Secretary of State to give an official breakfast and for the other members of the Cabinet and the Admiral of the Navy to keep open house. The wives of the secretaries always invite a dozen or more attractive women to assist them in entertaining the callers whom friendship, duty or curiosity brings within their doors. The scene is always brilliant, as the diplomats and the officers of the army and navy, having donned their gold lace and decorations for the White House, keep it on for the rest of the day.

GREAT AUTOMOBILE SHOW OPENS TODAY

Eighty-Four Manufacturers Exhibit Cars in Tenth International Show in New York.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Dec. 31.—All "automobildom" will turn its eyes and steps toward Grand Central Palace during the next eight days, where, beginning this afternoon, the Tenth International Automobile Show takes place. It is the first of the big automobile shows of the season. Months, in fact almost a year, have been spent in perfecting plans and making ready.

The show is notable for the unusually large number of new cars which have been constructed during the past year and which have never been shown at a motor car exhibition. There are 84 exhibitors of automobiles, which is the greatest number ever shown at one time in New York City. Of these 72 are American cars and 12 foreign. The range from $500 to $18,000.

COWBOYS WILL FORM LARGE ASSOCIATION

Punchers To Gather At Oklahoma City To Perpetuate Memory Of Old Time Range Rider.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 31.—A big round-up of cowboys from many parts of Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona, began in this city today and will continue over tomorrow. The chief purpose of the gathering is to form a national association to perpetuate the memory of the old-time cowboy of the plains, who is rapidly vanishing before the inevitable march of modern progress.

In connection with the reunion there is being held a monster exhibition of riding and roping contests and cowboy races. One thousand dollars in prizes will be distributed among the winners. The chief promoter of the affair is J. Ellison Carroll, the champion cow rider of the world, who won the championship at San Antonio in 1901.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 31.—Mrs. Charles E. Spencer, the wife of an engineer and the mother of four children, was found burned to death today after a fire had destroyed a shed at the rear of her home. The husband who turned in the alarm, said he was awakened by the smoke and he discovered his wife's body before calling for help. All indications point to suicide.

UNITED STATES EXACTS TRIBUTE

NATIONAL INCOME TAX LAW GOES INTO EFFECT ON JANUARY 1.

MAY EXCEED $25,000,000

Certain Classes of Corporations With an Income to Exceed $5,000 a Year Must Pay 1 Per Cent Tax.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—The income tax imposed by act of Congress passed Aug. 6, 1909, becomes effective tomorrow and is retroactive, providing for the payment of the tax for the year ending today. The law levies a tax of 1 per cent on the net income of all corporations, joint stock companies, associations and insurance companies with a net income in excess of $5,000 annually.

It is calculated that the tax will yield to the United States Government an annual revenue of from $25,000,000 up. This is only rough figuring, as it is impossible to get at the exact data of any corporations but the railroads, excepting as the corporations have consented to give information in their periodical reports. The railroads are obliged, by law, to file complete reports with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Under the corporation tax law all corporations will be required to file with the Internal Revenue Department by March 1, next a detailed statement showing the amount of their business for the past year.

The United States Steel Corporation will be the largest contributor to Uncle Sam's coffers under the 1 per cent tax. In its report for 1907, which is regarded as a good indication of what its present business is, its earnings, upon which the tax could be levied, were $133,344,930. This figure represents the earnings after the fixed charges, such as interest on bonds, were deducted. On a basis of 1 per cent the steel corporation would pay tax of $1,332,449.

The Standard Oil Company, with its many subsidiary corporations, will pay the next highest rate. Standard Oil does not make a habit of taking the public into its confidence, and to arrive at a definite conclusion is out of the question. Wall street figures that the new tax will compel the Standard to pay $500,000.

There are a score of large corporations which will be obliged to pay a tax of anywhere from $100,000 to $350,000. Many others will be taxed from $50,000 to $100,000.

The census of 1905 showed the capital of corporations engaged in manufacturing at that time to be $10,510, $11,305. The growth of corporations for the five years prior to 1905 was about 40 per cent. It is regarded as altogether likely that, with the constantly improved condition of business throughout the country it will be found, when the census is taken next year, that there has been a considerably greater increase than 40 per cent, over 1905, even with the setback of the panic. If this is found to be the case the corporation tax yield will be much higher than $25,000,000.

It is a foregone conclusion that strenuous efforts will be made to have the corporation tax declared unconstitutional. Test cases will be brought just as soon as possible, and one of these will be carried to the supreme court and an expeditious decision asked there. All sorts of corporations are going to fight the measure tooth and nail, and are confidently predicting that it will be forced to go the way of the income tax law of the Wilson-Gorman tariff.

On the other hand, there are many who believe the supreme court will sustain it, and still others are inclined to hope that there will be at least an oblique dictum opinion expressed on the income tax question. They think that the court cannot well decide the question of the constitutionality of the corporation tax without giving some clue to its present views on the income tax.

Edgerton, Wis., Dec. 31.—The formal opening of the Carlton hotel under the management of J. M. Horst took place last evening. The reception and banquet began at 6 o'clock and continued until 8 with one hundred couples in attendance. The Knott & Hatch orchestra of Janesville rendered a pleasing program during the reception and banquet. At 9 o'clock an adjournment was taken to a grand ball where the grand ball took place. The grand march took place at 9:30 and was led by Mrs. Horst and Isaac Spilg. One hundred and fifty couples participated in the event. The event was the largest and swiftest of the kind ever given in Edgerton.

TRAINS DELAYED BY
SNOW AND WEATHER

Railroad Man Explains Lateness Of the Trains As Due to Weather Conditions.

Commenting upon the statement that railroad men are unwilling to talk about the reasons for the general delay in the passenger service locally, a railway man said today that there was nothing secret or mysterious about it, and that the public eartainly was welcome to the facts.
"In the first place," he said, "the greater part of the delays to passenger trains originate to the west of us, and the trains in this division start out with that incumbrance. The trains out of Minneapolis and other Wisconsin have met with delays on every day for the past two weeks on account of heavy snowfall and much drifting on the track. This coupled with the difficulty of making steam in the engines which is always experienced during a period of low temperature, is sufficient to account for late trains anywhere. In fact, the trains on this division, and especially those made up at local stations, have done exceptionally well under the circumstances.

"When the trains are running on somewhere near their schedule time," he continued, "they can and do make a better average in their running time than is possible under present conditions. Now, no definite time schedule exists, and trains are put through under vastly different conditions. In many cases trains are run in two or more sections, in an attempt to make connections with other divisions and roads, and this all helps to complicate the dispatcher's task. Then, too, the extremely heavy freight traffic must be kept moving, and it is not always possible to anticipate delays in this branch of the service;
hence, more delays to passenger trains result.

"Finally," he concluded, "the railroads never were harder up for motive power than today. The recent western extension of the St. Paul road, and the enormous increase in western business on the Northwestern, have compelled both lines to keep engines on the road that really belong in the roundhouse. It is impossible to add to the equipment at once, and we are simply compelled to fight it out with what engines we have. The railroads are doing the best they can under resent conditions, and until the weather moderates they cannot promise much improvement in the service."

CENSUS MEN HAVE A LIST OF QUESTIONS

Have No End Of Funny Information
To Ask Of Janesville
People.
Janesville people will have to steel themselves to answer some rather naughty questions when the census taker comes to their doors on their rounds, which start on Feb. 1.
In a majority of cases it will be a man, called upon to give the enumerator desired information.
The census taker, through her checks will have a row time and she will feel that she has been on the winning stand. The census man will get along nicely until he gets down to question number 7. "What was your age at your last birthday?" she will then be asked.
"Then come a number of personal questions trailing one after another such as "single, married, widowed or divorced?" When the enumerator asks some cholerics business man if he owns his home and whether it is "free or mortgaged" it may take time to avoid trouble. Doubtless there will be many times when a policeman should be within calling distance.

Some of the thirty-two questions will answer themselves. A man bright enough to be selected as an enumerator will not need to ask a woman if she served in the confederate or union army. And after enquiring on his interview for ten minutes he will not need to ask his informant if she is blind deaf or dumb. Ordinarily he can make a shrewd guess as to her color, too.
The thirty-two questions that will be submitted by the enumerators are as follows:
1. Location?
2. Location of family?
3. Name of each person whose place of abode on April 15, 1910, was in this family?
4. Relationship of person to head of family?
5. Sex?
6. Color or race?
7. Age at last birthday?
8. Single, married, widowed, or divorced?

riage?
10. Children, number born?
11. How many living?
12. Place of birth?
13. Place of birth of father of this

14. Place of birth of mother of this

15. Year of immigration to United States?
16. Naturalized or alien?
17. Speak English? If not, what language?
18. Trade or profession?
19. General nature of industry in which person works?
20. Employer, employee, or working on own account?
21. Out of work April 15, 1910?
22. Number of weeks out of work during year 1909?
23. Able to read?
24. Able to write?
25. Attended school any time since Sept. 1, 1909?
26. Home owned or rented?

court this morning. One Winkley was sentenced to pay a fine of $3 and costs or spend eight days in jail; Wat-

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

(Copyright, 1909, by George Mat-

I don't go much on gilded vows, for I have made them in the past,
and they are with the how-wow-wow-they were too allured good to last.
And so I'll make one vow today: I'll simply try to do my best; that vow should help me on my way, for it embraces all the rest.
I'll take the middle of the road, and always do the best I can, and pack along my little load, and try to be a manly man. A man may end his journey here, too poor to buy a decent shroud, and planted by without a tear of turning from the worldly crowd;
but when he's in the judgment seat,
he'll come triumphant from the test;
no man has failed, no man can fail,
who always, always does his best.
And though my pathway be obscure, and void of honor and applause, and though the howl of the mob to the door my cheap doorway nearer draws, I'll keep a stout heart in my breast, and follow up this simple plan: I'll always do my very best, and try to be a manly man.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

THE best of New Year's greetings, my friends. I wish I knew just what each one of you wants 1910 to bring you that I might wish it for you. But as that's impossible, I take refuge in wishing each and every one of you all you'd wish yourself.

Have you made your New Year's resolutions yet?

Please don't say you are not going to make any, for it always makes me feel and when I hear anyone say that.

I know—as doubtless you do—many people who consider that they show a kind of superiority by not making New Year's resolutions.

"We know we'll break them, sooner or later, so what's the use," they go about saying, with an apparent pride in their cynicism.

Now, such a state of mind doesn't seem to me to be a sign of superiority or a reason for pride by any means, but rather something to be very much ashamed of.

Such a speech means that the man who makes it has lost one of the most precious things on earth—his faith in himself and his own will power.

And it seems to me that if I had lost so precious a thing I would try to hide the loss from the world instead of blazoning it abroad.

Whether you succeed in keeping your resolutions for a long time or not, I think the very act of making New Year's resolutions is healthy for the soul.

For making New Year's resolutions means that you stop for a few moments, face your faults squarely and take stock of yourself, so to speak, and that is a good thing for any man or woman to do occasionally.

And then it means that you look up to something beyond you, something you would like to be, and that, also, is a good thing for any man or woman to do, not occasionally, but very often.

And then it means—if they are real, genuine resolutions—that for a time at least you thoroughly believe in yourself and in your own highest possibilities—and that is best of all.

Even the man who breaks his New Year's resolutions on January 2, if on January 1 he made them wholeheartedly and believing that this time he would surely keep them forever, has gotten more out of the coming of the New Year than the man who did not make any resolutions because he knew he'd break them.

If you hitch your wagon to a star you may not get anywhere near the star, but you will certainly reach a higher plane than if you had never aimed at it.

And then there is another fact that those people who are so afraid to make New Year's resolutions—and indeed some of those who do make them, also—seem not to recognize, and that is that broken resolutions are not by any means incapable of being mended.

Most people who break a resolution seem to think that that is the end of the matter, or at least the end of it until another January 1.

Now, isn't that absurd?

Is there any possible reason why the resolution broken at 10 A. M. on January 2, 1910, can't be remade at 10:01 A. M. January 2, 1910?

I defy you to produce one.

Of course when you are making your resolutions you mustn't think of such a contingency.

If your resolution-making is to be worth anything, you must make them for eternity.

But if by any chance anything should happen—well, just remember that mending (issues of new determination is guaranteed to patch up any broken New Year's resolution, "just as good as new."

SOCIETY FOLK AT BRILLIANT BALL

Company of a Hundred, Danced to Krell and Carter & Menzies' Orchestra at Assembly Hall.

Assembly hall, in festive garb of evergreens and Christmas bells, welcomed a happy company of one hundred society people last evening at a brilliant New Year's ball given under the auspices of Stanley D. Tallman, Edward H. Peterson, and other members of the Shiloh Country club. The large number of visitors present, the beautiful costumes which figured in a rare picture of swirling color, and the compelling music, all contributed to make the event one of the most enjoyable in the social annals of the departing year.

During the early portion of the evening Carter & Menzies' orchestra occupied the musicians' platform, with its white lattice-work and decorations of green and red, and discoursed a program of spirited dance numbers. Shortly before ten o'clock they gave way to W. H. Krell and his Chicago instrumentalists who proceeded, without delay, to open up their wonderful melody with soul and faultless rhythm. Lively marches, circle two-steps, and the drowsy waltzes that these artists so well know how to color and shade were included in the offering, and the leader's cherubic smile was something good to see.

During the progress of the festivities, which lasted until three o'clock this morning, a buffet luncheon was served in the northeast corner of the ball-room under the direction of Miss Fatter.

Among the out-of-town visitors were: Fred Miller of the City of Mexico, Miss Abel Jackson and Burton Phelan of Milwaukee, H. N. Howick and Lawrence Doty of Chicago, Miss Isabel Thomas of Dayton, Ohio, Miss Hazel Barnes of Kalamazoo, Mich., Miss Marie Harlan of Fond du Lac, and Miss Leonore Meinhardt of Burlington, Wis.

Peter Brittin, a stockyard commission man of Chicago, died a few weeks ago.

He had a history. Back in 1861 Brittin landed at Castle Garden fresh from Germany.

He went direct to Wisconsin, where he had a job working on a farm. Then Lincoln called for volunteers.

One day the little German heard the drums "beating up for volunteers," saw the flag and the crowd and got a gun and started south with the others.

He could speak no word of English. He didn't know any better than to stand on the firing line in front of the bullets and get eight separate wounds at different times. Each time when the doctors fixed him up he grabbed his gun and stood up for more.

Like the legendary cat, Peter Brittin seemed to have nine lives.

Once they left Peter on the battle-field for dead. He lay there for days neglected and helpless. Finally the negro hostler of a surgeon brought him some water.

"Don't bother with that little Dutchman," said the surgeon; "he'll die anyway."

Perhaps Peter would have died that time if a kind Confederate surgeon had not found him and nursed him back to life.

Peter got away before his wound was healed, found his company, got his gun and never stopped fighting until somebody told him the war was over.

Peter's name was never mentioned in the newspaper dispatches. He was just a private.

He was of that grand army, Federal and Confederate, American all, who touched elbows with each other through dust and mud and under brassy skies—just privates, to be pined in great withdrawals after the battles that made genuine famous.

Peter Brittin had no bitterness in him as a Union soldier. He simply fought because he was built that way.

And when the war was over and he understood it all and remembered the kindness of the Confederate surgeon and nurses there was no feeling in his heart against the gallant men whom he had fought. There was only a surging sense of fraternity and brotherly love.

He was just a private. And he was a fine type of the American citizen who fights hard when he fights, but who always fights fair and who dearly loves a generous foe.

Ready to Take Up Any Notion. We should be surprised at the way notions spread like epidemics if we did not realize that multitudes are going about with fanatical minds to whom any notion is better than nothing.

THE NEW YEAR

There's nothing quite so comfortable as an old shoe, and we lay aside an old coat or an old hat with a feeling of regret. So in the closing hours of the old year memory harks back through the months of pleasure, tinged perhaps with suffering and sorrow, but on the whole, good to contemplate, for the year 1900 passes to history as the banner year.

It is good to live through such a year, in a land of opportunity, where every man may be a sovereign, if he will, for the royal road to empire is open to every honest toiler.

The passing milestones are landmarks of progress, in the upward climb, and while ambition may center in no lofty pinnacle of fame, it is a satisfaction to know that the pace is forward.

The years, as they come and go, reappear in returns all that we put into them, so if the year just closing has been barren in results, it is because investments have been meagre and limited.

The boy who leaves school with opportunities unimproved enters life with mental equipment impaired, and the loss is a handicap before the race is fairly begun. He is destitute of resources, through lack of investment when opportunity offered, and so becomes a trailer in the procession, or a drifter from the ranks.

Wealth of physical development, as well as of mind and heart, is of slow growth. While money may occasionally be secured through some "get-rich-quick" investment, the richer graces are never thus acquired.

The balance sheets, as the result of inventories, will be carefully studied, and the weak spots strengthened in every well-regulated business office. If the same care is exercised in the personal inventory of every life the new year will open auspiciously.

"Beyond the Threshold," is the title of the following choice sentiment which appears in Success Magazine. It is a tribute to the old year and a hopeful outlook toward the new:

"I have passed the door which opens to another year. The latch of the door was lifted for me by hands not my own. I could not stay in the old year any more, even if I tried. I loved its suns and snows, and even its storms and darkness were good for me. I do not mind now the sting of the pain-dart which struck me, nor am I ashamed of the resultant scar. And then, sometimes, there was the touch of gentle hands and the kindness of understanding hearts! These were my who in weariness.

"All that is past—all save the memory of it and the effect of it; these abide—a part of the fibre of my latest self. But for this other year—the strange, new one—what? I ought not to ask. A veil is over its days, momentarily. I only know that I have essayed it; that it is but a little bit of the whole span of life, an annual unit in the sum of Time; and that in it lie my further adventure and opportunity. I shall go on. From their height the stars will see me, the earth will prove itself my friend all over again, and I shall meet my brothers on the way."

"THE GOVERNORS' CLUB"

There has recently developed at Battle Creek, Michigan, a unique organization known as "The Governors' Club."

C. W. Post of Postum Cereal fame is the president and promoter, and the object is to encourage men who can't be entirely good to be as good as they can.

The fact is recognized that every man is the governor of his own estate, and that the bulwark is strong or weak in proportion to the amount of will-power invested. The resolution which a man makes with himself should be a sacred resolution. It is like a game of solitaire, where there is no satisfaction in cheating.

The Governors' club aims to make men better by their own volition. The object is a good one. If you want to become a member, and commence the new year right send for blanks to the secretary, C. Star, Battle Creek, Michigan. Following is a copy of the creed:

"The purpose of this club is to cultivate moderation and temperance based upon strength of character, integrity, and personal honor.

"The club suggests a maximum use of stimulating beverages and tobacco consistent with the requirements of the member, earnestly recommending a maximum not to exceed two portions of each per day and this maximum is defined as the accepted standard of the club.

"Recognizing a variety in individual temperament and taste, it is permissible for the signer to establish his own rule of practice with a thoughtful realization of the physical and mental advantages of well defined moderation.

"The undersigned therefore agrees to restrict his use of alcoholic or narcotic beverages to ordinary portions of either (not of both) or of each and portions of tobacco in any form each day of 24 hours or payment of $1 for each portion used in excess as an alternative.

"Don't waste time setting a wide-open limit that would require no development of the restraining power of the 'Governor'."

"Fix it less than the club standard of two portions if you can live to that. A total discontinuance is worthy of careful consideration and if that position be desired by the member write 'No' in each of the blanks.

"Report and remittance to be made within three days of each excess. The income shall be used to cover expenses; the surplus for charity.

"There shall be no entry fee or dues, other than the dues herein defined for use of the alternative.

"Officers will serve without salary. Membership may be discontinued the eighth day after notice has been mailed to the secretary.

"I, the undersigned, agree to the rules and regulations herein defined, and upon signing my name do solemnly affirm that I will strictly, honestly, and completely obey them.

"This covenant is with my Higher Self and with the members of the Governor's club, and rests solely but solemnly upon my Sacred Personal Honor.

"Signature

EVERYDAY HISTORY

In the editorial rooms of the Gazette is a cabinet containing some 200 bound volumes of the paper. The weekly files date back to 1845 and the first issue of the daily to 10 years later.

This library is the only complete everyday history of the city, of which the "Forty Years Ago" is but a fragment. It has to do with the lives of men and women who were more or less prominent, and contains a kindly salutatory when they passed on.

It is a record of births and deaths, of marriage and divorce, of accident and crime, of building and fire, of success and failure, of comedy and tragedy, a plain, unassuming history of things which happened for more than half a century in the little city established so long ago.

Today's issue of the paper contains the chronology of the year just closing. It will be read with interest, because it is a pleasant history, telling of health, prosperity and happiness, and not marred by any great calamity.

The city is a goodly place for a home, and never more attractive than it is today. The year 1910, so close at hand, will be a year of opportunity and great possibilities. Harmony of action and united purpose will accomplish marked results. A happy new year to everybody.

The tragedies of life respect neither time nor place, and sorrow is the common lot of humanity and so the holiday season, so full of rejoicing, seems like a mocking in stricken homes. But time heals the wounds, and out of the darkness, like a star in the night, comes a sacred memory which abides.

Congress will convene next week, and the people will soon discover that they have a president who is equal to emergencies, however, much he may be annoyed by delay.

The man who conquers himself is a king by divine right, commanding both self-respect and the respect of his fellowmen.

If you can't be good all the time be as good as you can. The effort will help to hold you steady.

If the old year has brought happiness through doing good, keep up the practice through 1910.

King Habit should be disinherited now and then, and New Year's day is a good time to tackle the monarch.

Enter the new year with face to the front and a hopeful outlook. Things are better than they seem.

The world is growing better as time advances. Don't be a pessimist.

Good resolutions are better than no resolutions.

Brain of the Middle Men.

Little middle men are eating the life out of New York and drinking its heart's blood. Why, there are many restaurants where a piece of meat, fish or fowl is cooked and served even cheaper than the first cost in some of these severe, sometimes fashionable butcher shops. All this discourages housekeeping and encourages divorce, desertion and damnation.—New York Press.

WE OFFER ALL BLANKETS AND COMFORTS AT A DISCOUNT OF 10 PER CENT.

WHAT THIS MEANS TO YOU

It all depends upon how a merchant buys his goods, whether a discount of a certain per cent means as much in one store as another. We claim that it does not. Why? Because where the average merchant buys in small quantities as he needs the goods and pays prevailing market prices. The Big Store is in touch with manufacturers and importers who sell only to the largest merchants, who are able to use quantities too big for the ordinary store. Orders for case lots must be placed months ahead in order to secure rock-bottom prices. It pays us to do this on a certain class of goods that are not subject to sudden changes of style.

During January We Will Allow a Discount of 10% On Blankets and Comforts Which Really Means a Saving of 20% to 25% Compared to Many Other Stores.

FARMER WAS HELD: HARBORS DELUSION

Police Made Arrangements to Care for Grand Rapids Farmer Who is Mentally Unbalanced.

Subject to melancholia and harboring the delusion that enemies are weaving widespread plots against him and his aged mother, J. H. Lieb, thirty years old, a former living near Grand Rapids, Wis., was taken in charge by the police last night, just in time as it was afterward shown by letters in his possession, to prevent him from taking his own life.

From what can be learned, Lieb owns 240 acres of land near Grand Rapids, is a graduate of the short course in agriculture at the University of Wisconsin and has acted as an assessor in his home county. Recently he left for a visit in Chicago and on his return trip stopped off in this city where his actions alarmed several of his friends.

When apprehended, he appeared to be perfectly normal, but upon examination of letters in his pockets, it was found that he was mentally unbalanced at times. Several of his letters, some of which had never been posted, were mere jumbled statements of impossible incidents and in one of them, he requested that one of his neighbors be appointed administrator of his estate in case of his demise.

When it was ascertained that Lieb had relatives in this city, it was thought best to notify them of his condition. In response to the summons, they appeared this noon and made arrangements to take him to Grand Rapids where his case will be investigated. Lieb, when he arrived in this city, was well supplied with money and in addition had nine or ten valuable rings.

BIG POULTRY SHOW TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

Exhibit of Fowls and Pet Stock to Be Held in the Rink Building.

Beginning next Monday and continuing throughout the week, the poultry and pet stock show of the Southern Wisconsin Poultry association will be held in the Rink building. The exhibits this year will be far greater and better than last and it is expected that there will be between one thousand and fifteen hundred entries. In connection with the poultry show there is also to be a corn show. Liberal prizes are put up by the management of the show and the competition will be keen. No entry fee is charged in the corn exhibit, but it is required that each exhibitor bring or send a half bushel or thirty-five pounds of corn. The prizes to be given in the corn show are as follows:

For the best half bushel of Yellow Dent, a fourteen inch plow will be given. For the second best half bushel of Yellow Dent a prize of $5 in gold will be given. A barrel of Gold Medal flour will be awarded to the exhibitor of the best half bushel of White Dent corn and for the best half bushel of White Dent, five dollars in gold is the prize.

NEW PIANO FIRM HAS LARGE SALES.

The Wisconsin Music Company Makes Interesting Record in Janesville.

Since opening its branch store in Janesville on the 1st of last September, the Wisconsin Music Company has placed in the city homes fifteen of the highest grade pianos of old established makes. Included in their line are the Blaudin, Albrecht, Regent, Schulerberg, Cambridge and Player Pianos, the dating as far back as the year 1780.

Because their profits are close on each piano sold, the firm has taken modest salesrooms in the Kent block out of the high rent district. A new electric sign will soon flash to the people the knowledge that this is their permanent location.

It is understood that this is the only company in Southern Wisconsin selling pianos direct from the factory. In fact, this store is itself a branch of the factory.

Mr. H. B. Hughes has been placed in the direct management of the company at Janesville and states that the company is building up a permanent business in this city and the surrounding territory, and that it can guarantee to purchasers the same satisfaction that users of pianos bought from this company continually enjoy. Mr. Hughes has been connected with the Wisconsin Music Company for many years and is well known among piano men as a capable and competent manager and retailer.

GENERAL NOTICE.

We, the undersigned merchants of the city of Janesville, hereby agree to close our stores from January 1st at 12:00 noon, to January 3rd, 7:00 a. m., 1910.

PREPARE FOR ICE RACING TOMORROW

Good Speed Contest in Prospect for New Year's Afternoon on Track Near Gas House.

Prospects for a fine fast ice race tomorrow afternoon, between the best that Janesville can produce in the way of trotting and pacing horses, are very bright. When it became known that the ice had frozen sufficiently to permit of races being held, several prominent horsemen of the city immediately agitated the project of having a track prepared on the Gas House pond.

The undertaking met with general approval and in a short time sufficient funds were obtained by ex-Alderman Edward Schudley to put four scrapers at work. The track, which is being prepared under the personal supervision of Alderman Shudman, will be five rods wide, about a quarter of a mile long, and from present indications will furnish almost an ideal straight-away course for the racers.

Numbered among these lovers of a good horse who by subscribing liberally have made the races possible and who will doubtless enter their horses in the races on New Year's afternoon, are: E. J. Schudley, J. J. and Edward Sheridan, David Griffin, Harry Perry, G. D. Charlton, Harry Schumaker, John Huchins, C. H. Schaller, John Fisher, E. Ray Lloyd, Thomas Burns, Alva Maxwell, Dr. R. L. Brown, Noah Jones and Gray Field of Deloit.

Among the horses that will be entered are several with marks of 2:17 or better and under favorable conditions, some exciting finishes are in prospect.

New York, Dec. 31.—The Standard Oil speculative group of financiers, it was learned, has practically added the Carnegie Trust Company, the Van Norden Trust Company and the Nineteenth and Twelfth Ward banks, which the Van Norden owners control, to the chain of great down town banks and trust companies which they are forming in opposition to the Morgan-Insurance interests.

The resources of these combined institutions will amount to $42,000,000, all of which, of course, will be under the control of the Standard Oil men.

RED CROSS RELIEF PLAN READY.

Will Pension the Widows of Cherry Mine Victims.

Chicago, Dec. 31.—Maintaining that there exists no physical suffering or want at Cherry, Ill., and declaring that the real pinch among bereft families will come next spring, Ernest P. Ricknoll, national director of the Red Cross, announced that he would call a conference of foreign consuls in Chicago as a preliminary step to a final disbursement of funds to the widows of mine-disaster victims.

He announced also that his organization had officially adopted a permanent relief plan for pensioning the dependent women, which now awaits the official sanction of the Illinois branch of the United Mine Workers of America and the state legislature.

An Eskimo "Dot."

The careless, happy and somewhat oily bride of the Eskimo brings to her husband's hut a lamp and a knife, which, with her sealskin coat and breeches, constitute the "dot" of the marriageable daughters in Greenland.

COLD STORAGE PLANT PROMISED.

Shurtleff Co. to Erect a Model Plant for Storage Purposes.

That Janesville is to have a cold storage plant next spring seems to be a practical certainty.

The erection of this structure is of great economic significance to the families as well as to the grocers of the city. The best creamery butter and many other necessities of life can be bought at low prices and retailed at less than when they are purchased by the local dealers at the high prevailing market prices. This year the grocers could have sold butter at much less than at 40c a lb. if the plant were in operation.

The cost of this building is likely to be considerable. The insulation system alone will probably amount to more than the cost of the building itself.

Mr. Shurtleff of the Shurtleff Co. has already had an engineer making estimates who states that he can build on Main street back of the present Shurtleff site and get a roomy building with thousands of square feet of floor space. The first two stories will be used for work of the creamery and ice cream factory and the third for storage of butter and ice cream tubs and other goods.

The Island of Regeneration

By Cyrus Townsend Brady

"God help me," cried the man, lifting his hand and releasing his shoulder from the grasp of the officer. "I did love this woman. Think how it was, think how I loved her. No Christian ever believed in his god as I believed in her. She told me what purity was, what innocence was, what sweetness was, what light was, what truth was, and I looked at her and saw them."

"And you can look at her and see them now," cried the officer. "No," said the man, "I can never look at her and see her the same." "Oh, Man! Man!" cried the woman. The test was upon him. He was failing. Her sorrow, her grief were more for him than for herself. "Don't mistake me," said the man. "I can't help loving you, whatever you are. If you had been as guilty as when he began to speak and when you corroborated him, I fancied that you were, I should have loved you just the same and I should have married you, and I shall marry you. This... this awful thing has come between us, but we will try in some way to live it down, to forget it, to go on as we were."

He stepped toward the woman. She drew herself up to her full height and looked him unflinchingly in the face. "No," she said, "we are not going on as we thought. We will not marry and live together. We will not bury this wretched happening in the past in any oblivion. I will marry no man, although he may have my whole heart, who in not proud and glad to take me, who does not realize that I am as pure and as innocent of wrong and shame as he would find his mother, as he would absolutely know his wife must be. I told you that your manhood must be put to the test. I told you that your love must be tried by fire. What I loved in you was the assurance that you would survive the test, that you would triumph in the trial. It is not I that have been before the great judge this morning, but you, and you have failed."

"Kate," said Langford, "he casts you off; take me. I swear to you that were I in his place, I would not have hesitated a moment."

"I respect you more than ever," said the woman; "but I don't love you and I cannot, I will not take you!" "Charnock," said Whittaker, "if that's your name, permit me to say here, saying the lady's presence, that you are behaving like a damned fool."

The man looked at him dumbly, incomprehendingly, and made no reply. It was the woman who spoke, coldly, impartially. She had seemingly dismissed the whole affair, though at what a cost to herself no one could know.

"Sir," she said, "is there anyone on your ship empowered to administer an oath?"

"I have that power," answered the lieutenant-commander. "Why do you ask?"

"I wish you would bring some of your officers here with paper and ink. I wish to make a deposition as to the facts that I have learned concerning this man which may be of service to him in establishing his identity and discovering his history when he returns to the United States."

"But are you not going back with us, Miss Brenton?" asked the officer in amazement. "We are sailing for Honolulu and thence for San Francisco as directly as we can go."

"No," said the girl, "I will not leave the island. You can take my friend here."

"The Southern Cross," said Langford, "is at your disposal, Kate."

"I have had one voyage upon her," said the woman bitterly. "I want never to see her again."

"Woman," said the man of the island suddenly, "if you stay here, I stay here. Without you I will not go."

"Not so," said the woman scornfully. "I would not be upon the same island alone with you again. You have failed me."

Her voice broke, but she caught it again instantly and resumed her iron self-control.

"Then if one of us must stay, it shall be I."

"No," said the woman, "I have been in the world and you have not. You may go and learn what it holds for you. I have tried to prepare you, to give you lessons. Now, you may put them in practice."

"The island is mine," said the man. "It was here when you came. I shall be here when you return."

"We shall see," returned the woman looking boldly at him. The clash of wills almost struck fire within the eyes of the two who thus crossed swords. "Meanwhile," she turned to Langford, "if you will leave the island and go back to your ship, I shall be very glad. There is nothing you can do here. You have nothing to gain by remaining."

"Kate," he cried, "one last appeal. It is as unavailing as the first."

She looked at him steadily. He saw that within her face and bearing which convinced him that what she said was true.

"At least," he said, with the dignity of sorrow and disappointment, "if I have played the part of the fool, I have done my best to play the man."

He turned slowly away. In a step the woman was by his side.

"You have," she said, "whoever else has failed me in this hour, it has not been you. I am sorry that I do not love you, that I never did love you and that I cannot love you." She reached her hand out. "Good-by."

"Good-by," he said, "if you think of me, remember that I did my best to make amends and if you ever change—"

"I shall not change," said the woman. "Good-by."

He moved off down the strand, called his sailors to him, got into his boat, shoved off and was rowed over the blue lagoon and through the opening in the barrier toward the yacht tossing slowly upon the long swells of the Pacific.

"As for you, sir," said the woman, after she had watched Langford a little while in silence, "will you go back and bring some officers ashore to hear my story?"

"At your wish, Miss Brenton," said the lieutenant-commander gravely.

The woman turned to her companion.

"Will you go with them?"

"And leave you here alone?" cried the man.

"I shall be here when you come back, I give you my word upon it. I do not break my word. You know whatever else you may have against me, I have always told you the truth. If you will remember, I said-but yesterday that I was not worthy of you."

She smiled bitterly.

"And in that, madam," said Whittaker, "give me leave to say that you broke your record for veracity."

"The good of you to say so," she returned. "Believe me I have taken more comfort from your words and actions in this dreadful hour than I had dreamed it possible for men to give. Now, if you will all go away and leave me and not come back until evening I shall be so glad and thankful."

"Come, sir," said the lieutenant-commander, not unkindly, touching the man upon the shoulder. "As a gentleman you cannot do less than accede to the lady's request."

Suffering himself thus to be persuaded, the man followed the officer into the boat, in which the whole party embarked and was rowed away from the island. His first touch with the world had separated him from the woman he loved and who loved him. Nay, his own frightful folly, his own blindness, his own criminal and heartless decision had done that. And the world upon which humanity loves to load the blame of its transgressions, and with which it would fain share the consequences of its own follies, had nothing whatever to do with it. In fact, it was because he was so ignorant of the world, so utterly unable to see things in their relative values—and in relation to ascertain truth—that he had taken the tone that he had—and entered upon the course which he had followed.

He could only see one thing, that this woman who he supposed belonged so completely and entirely and absolutely to him, who was as fresh and unspoiled from the world as he was, who had been his own as he had belonged entirely and utterly and absolutely to her, was different!

"The difference was more in his own imagination than anywhere else brought him no comfort. He still loved her, he still wanted to marry her, but he loved her in spite of her shame. A greater, a wiser man would have loved her because of it. And some day this fact which he himself was inherently large enough to realize, or would be after a time, would cause him a grief so great that the anguish that he suffered now would be nothing.

Whittaker was a man of great tact and shrewdness and one with a wide knowledge of the world. He realized something of what was in the man's mind. He saw in some measure how the proposition presented itself to him and he felt a deep kindness and pity toward his unhappy fellow passenger.

You Serve Good Health With Bonano

It agrees with your household—big folks, baby folks and all. A bracing, pure food fruit drink; warming, palate-tempting, energy-building. It's the drink to do big things on. Puts you on your mettle—gives you stamina, and stick.

It supports nobly—a prop that does not palsy; a stimulant that does not sap. BONANO is not a "near" coffee, but a wholesome table drink in a class of its own, with its own flavor, its own spicy odor, its own full, satisfying "body."

Try BONANO a week or two. You will like it better and better every day as you feel your health improve, your nerves get firm, your brain grow clear, your digestion become right—when you learn what it is to work like a giant and sleep like a baby.

BONANO can easily be made to suit each individual taste by boiling it more or less or using a larger or smaller quantity than directions call for. You can easily find the way you like it best.

BONANO is just the appetizing goodness of fully matured, tropic-ripened bananas—the choicest that grow—dried, roasted, granulated—served as a golden brown, aromatic beverage. No adulteration, no artificial coloring or flavor.

Your doctor will tell you that bananas are high in food value, that they are easily and quickly digested by the weakest stomach without over-taxing, that they help in assimilation and digestion and are mildly corrective, that they contain or develop no poisons; and thus BONANO is pure and wholesome and can be given in perfect safety to an unwearied babe.

For Insomnia: Those who are unable to sleep find that a before-retiring cup of BONANO promptly induces restful, refreshing slumber.

BONANO is an economical drink, too. It goes twice as far as coffee. It requires little sugar because of the fruit-sweet it contains. A 25-cent can of BONANO makes 75 cups of the best hot drink you ever tasted.

COFFEE RISKS.

All coffee dangers can be easily and quickly avoided. You can positively get the flavor, the golden amber color, and the real coffee taste without the damaging poisonous effects—by simply asking your grocer for the new substitute known as Dr. Simpson's Health Coffee.

Remember also these facts:
You get 100 cups of rich, rare "Health Coffee" from a single 1½ pound 25c package of Dr. Simpson's Health Coffee. It absolutely gives two-thirds farther than common coffee, and costs less than 12¢ per pound.

As an illustration of real coffee, "Health Coffee" is entirely in class by itself. There is no other coffee substitute made, that has the real true Java and Mocha flavor, and yet has not a single grain of real coffee in it.

And remember, please, that "Health Coffee" is made in a minute. So 20 to 30 minutes tedious boiling is at all necessary. Its health-giving properties emanate from the wholesome food of Brazil, Java, etc., from which "Health Coffee" is made. "Health Coffee" is also an ideal drink for children. Write Dr. Simpson, Reading, Wis. for his free book, "Coffee Dangers."

Madam, We Can Save You Money...

In this city there are many women who still bake their own bread. With flour at $7.00 per barrel we can save you about 2c per loaf or 60c per month, on a basis of one loaf per day, because our large business of over 7,000 loaves per day allows us to buy carloads of flour direct from the mill--then if these women will serve YANKEE BREAD we will save them a lump sum of money each month.

We bake every day in our large factory over 7,000 loaves of bread--more than one-fourth the bread sold in Janesville.

So we consume a large output of flour each month. In this way we buy flour at lower prices than you would believe possible.

Then let us give you the advantage of this saving--for we furnish all the materials and do all the work for less than it costs you to buy the flour alone. And even then your bread is never half so good, because you lack the wonderful facilities of our expensive factory.

Baked in Steam Ovens

The secret of delicious bread lies in the oven.

Your oven bakes in dry heat--ours in live steam.

These great ovens are made with low roofs to retain all moisture rising from the bread.

Then other steam is forced in under terrific pressure, superheated to 340 degrees.

In this fierce heat the starch granules swell until they burst into a myriad of particles so the yeast cells quickly convert them into sugar.

This result is the most perfect loaf ever baked--it is so moist and dainty and with such a delicious flavor that it is nothing less than a revolution in bread baking.

Why Steam is Necessary

Yeast continues to ferment until the bread is baked in a heat of 212 degrees.

Your kitchen stove has a maximum temperature of 200 degrees, while the center of the loaf rarely exceeds 100 degrees.

And it is dry heat.

Such heat crisps the crust and then cannot penetrate to the center of the loaf. The crust keeps out the heat but retains the moisture.

Thus while your loaf is damp, the center is only half baked.

The yeast cells continue to ferment in the stomach and cause indigestion.

But our steam keeps the crust moist until the inside is fully baked. Then we turn off the steam and let the bread slowly come to a rich brown crust.

That's why Yankee Bread is so delightful--every yeast cell is killed and it has a delicious flavor that is simply enticing.

What Makes Bread Rise

Our dough is kneaded by machinery, but there was a time when it was kneaded by the hands.

Then it was better to bake at home.

Bread will not rise well unless every grain of flour is surrounded by water. So we knead the dough for an hour.

Your arms become tired and you stop in fifteen minutes. Your dough expands about sixteen times while ours expands more than twenty-one times.

So here again our facilities excel those of your kitchen.

Please Consider This Point

We have never put one grain of alum in our bread. When the baker was confined to one kind of flour some used alum to whiten the bread if the flour was poor--we never did.

For we used a different method--we blended the flour.

One kind of flour we buy is made from wheat rich in gluten, another famous for its starch and still a third from a wheat grown in a region where moisture is plentiful.

Thus we obtain a uniform quality in every loaf and absolute purity in every grain. For we regard purity and cleanliness above all other things essential to good bread making.

Better Food Than Meat

One pound of Yankee Bread contains 70 parts of nitrogen as compared with 29 parts in a pound of potatoes and only 18 parts in one pound of meat.

Thus 5 cents worth of bread has more nourishment than a great deal of meat.

Consider also that bread is only one-third water while meat is half water and potatoes fully two-thirds--so in other foods you often pay for mostly water.

Those who work hard and require the most food will find no better nourishment than a delicious loaf of Yankee Bread.

Fresh from the Ovens

Yankee Bread is delivered to the grocers while it is yet warm.

Our drivers take it fresh from the ovens and in ten minutes it is at the first store. In a few hours it is in every store.

These delightful loaves--aren't they better than the three-day old bread in your pantry when you also bake twice a week?

How do your loaves compare with ours brought to you fresh from the ovens?

Serve one loaf of Yankee Bread on your table. Then let your folks decide who shall bake the bread in the future.

If they decide in our favor you should be delighted. For surely you do not want to spend one-sixth of your week in the kitchen when Yankee Bread costs you less than your flour alone.

It is delicious in flavor (baked in steam)--it is healthful (better than meat)--it is clean (not adulterated)--it is cheap (costs less than flour)--then why not serve it on your table? Learn how good, how nutritious, how light and dainty and of what delicious flavor bread can be when baked by our method.

Much larger and three times as good as any other bread

The Optimist's Corner Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. DUTLER, J. M. M. D.

Let your children play out of doors. Don't keep them shut up like house-plants, until they become as pale and as thin as ghosts. Strip off the flannel, put on coarse garments, and turn them out to play in the sand—to make "mud cakes," to daub their faces with anything of an "earthy nature," which will have a tendency to make them look as though they had entered into a co-partnership with dirt. Keep them in the house, and they will soon look like, and be of about as much value, as a potato which grows in the cellar—pale, puny, sickly, sentimental wrecks of humanity. Turn out the boys and girls, and let them run, sniff the pure air, and be happy. Leather must be tanned before it is fit for use, and boys and girls must undergo a hardening process before they are qualified to engage in the arduous duties of active life. Let the sun come into our dwellings, and let our chambers be on the sunny side of the house. All know that a north light is cold, searching and unsentimental, and tries both the complexion and the heart; it reveals gray hairs and the crow's-track about the corners of the eyes. Pleasant sunshine brightens a man's heart; it makes his spirit as cheerful as the landscape. He cannot be well and happy without it.

The Vanishing Impossible.

About a century ago an English court, considering an agreement in which it was provided one person should do a certain act in Oxford and on the same day a certain act in London, declared the contract invalid as being impossible, the distance being too great for a man to travel in one day. The fastest trains between Oxford and London now consume just one hour and fifteen minutes.—Collier's Weekly.

BREAD AND MEAT.

Bread and meat, a staple food combination in America, is the best of combinations, when meat is used, because the digestion of bread is nearer that of meat than any other food; and since a meal cannot be made of meat alone (although the meat cure, the once famous Salisbury diet, still has its advocates), it is better to combine bread with it than any other article. The bread gives the bulk and the meat supplies the elements deficient in white bread, for which there is, unfortunately, a preference. It is important that meat should digest as completely as possible to avoid, as far as possible, its natural toxic effects, and bread permits this more than any other combination. Milk and fruits especially should not be eaten, at the same meal with meat. At least the invalid and the aged should observe this rule carefully. The ill effects of ignoring it can be distinctly traced.

LIQUID BREAD

That is the name that has been given by eminent physicians to beer of good quality. That the name is justified is proved by the chemical analysis of beer.

One quart of GOLDEN CROWN BEER contains one-tenth to one-fifth of a pound of solid food substances, consisting of:—

1. Albumen, 46 to 124 grains.
2. Nutritious Salts, especially the all important phosphates.
3. Extract of malt, which constitutes the greater part of the solids.

These ingredients make Golden Crown Beer a strength-giving food, a tonic and a powerful aid to digestion. Golden Crown Beer contains only 3 1-2 per cent of alcohol. It is a food.

Golden Crown Beer

Beer is the one beverage that cannot be tampered with from the time it leaves the manufacturer until it reaches the consumer.

Golden Crown Beer is absolutely pure, being entirely free from disease laden germs so frequently found in milk and water. It contains so small a percentage of alcohol as to render it entirely harmless. It acts as a tonic and nerve builder and produces that mild form of stimulation and exhilaration which the system craves. Order a case today and prove it.

Janesville Plows Speak for Themselves

Janesville Corn Planter

If you never saw a Janesville No. 5 Corn Planter in action, you've yet to witness one of the most wonderful tools that human ingenuity ever devised to help the farmer secure better results.

It does what no other planter today can do—drops 2, 3, or 4 kernels to the hill, just as the soil appears to call for it.

Think what this one exclusive Janesville feature means in the way of a more even growth and better crops!

And this quick change from 2 to 3 or 4 kernels is made simply by touching a small hand lever—without stopping the machine, without leaving your seat or changing the rate.

And besides this, it will do all that any other planter will do. It will hill or drill. It is furnished with convertible drop, (edge or flat). Three plates for seeding and 18 variations—providing for every possible condition of seed and soil.

And there are other features in the Janesville—choice of shoe, stub, or disk runners on the same machine; automatic distribution of the wire on the reel while winding up; fertilizer attachment, etc.

Isn't this the corn planter you've been looking for? You can't afford not to investigate this machine.

THE VARIABLE DROP DEVICE.

This quick change of the number of kernels to the hill—2, 3, or 4—is effected very simply. By operating a small hand lever within easy reach, the operator sets the clutch so as to turn the seed shaft one-sixth, one-fourth or one-third of a revolution, giving 2, 3, or 4 kernels to the hill.

The Sweepstakes Prize, is the prize awarded to the Plow that does the best work of all Plows entered in all classes.

In the entries in this contest there were six "Janesville" Sulkies and one "Janesville" Gang.

All entries were made by farmers with Plows that they owned themselves.

They were entered in the following classes:

Three "Janesville" Sulkies in the prize winners' class.

Two "Janesville" Sulkies in the Sulky Plow class.

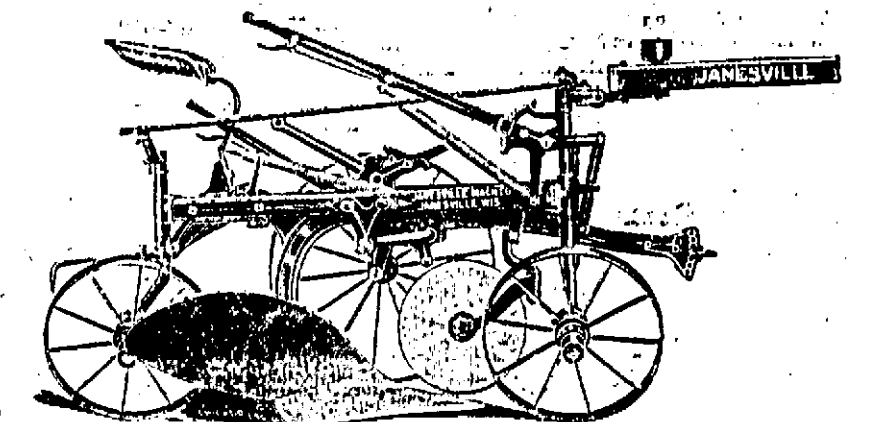

One "Janesville" Gang in the Gang Plow class.

One "Janesville" Sulky in the class of boys under 10 years of age.

Every "Janesville" Plow Entered Took a Premium, Together with the Sweepstakes, or EIGHT Premiums in all

These contests are entirely in the hands of the farmers of the association—gotten up and run by them. They offer their own prizes and have absolute control; are interested in no way, shape or manner in advancing the interests of any particular manufacturer, and have but the one and sole object, and that is to create a sentiment in the community for better and more efficient farming methods, and are unquestionably filling that desire.

So you see the Janesville is a success, not alone on paper but actually in the field.

They swept the boards at the Big Rock, Ill., Plowing Contest, Sept. 25, 1900. Three Times in Succession By the Same Man.

Over 3,000 farmers saw "Janesville" Sweep the Boards Sept. 25 for the third time yearly at the farmers' own Big Rock Plowing Match, on the farm of Hiram Travis, near Big Rock.

Soil conditions were about as bad as they could be, too.

Here's the record for "Janesville." Morris Williams won the Sweepstakes Prize, having won the prize three years in succession.

A FEW WORDS OF INTEREST TO THE PROSPECTIVE AUTOMOBILE ENTHUSIAST

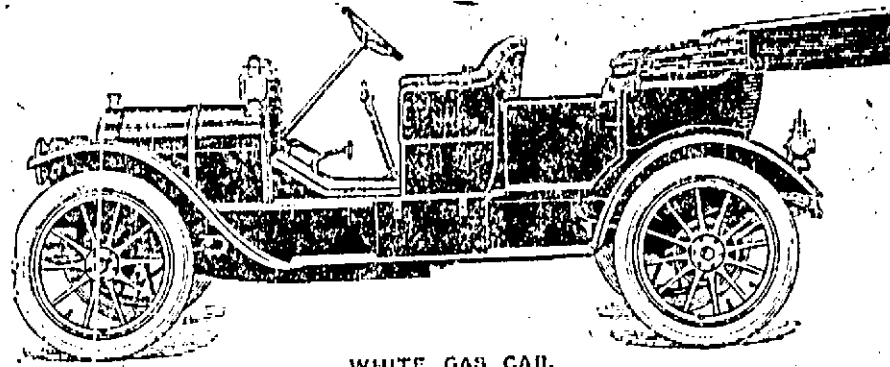

Why not introduce yourself to the good old fashioned American way of purchasing "Automobiles as well as anything else?" Be like the man from Missouri, SHOW ME, then BUICK will be the answer. Why? Simply because the BUICK is not one of the advertised value, but a CAR OF INTRINSIC WORTH. In purchasing an automobile go to an established dealer who makes it his exclusive business to deal in automobiles, a concern which has a reputation for square dealings, and cannot afford and has no inclination to misrepresent what they sell and which builds up a business through satisfied customers, not through advertising, spending thousands of dollars in every large and small trade papers and magazines. Did you ever see an ad of the Buick Motor Co. in any of the automobile advertising mediums? A CAR MUST HAVE UNUSUAL MERIT FOR THIS.

A carload of 1910 Buick cars will be shipped from the Buick factory the following week and will be on the floors of the River St. Garage shortly thereafter, consisting of 1 Model 16, 40 H. P., toy tonneau; 1 Model 19, 30 H. P., five-passenger touring car, $1,400; 1 Model 19, 20 H. P., toy tonneau, $1,150. Also are daily awaiting the arrival of a carload of Oakland cars, consisting of 1 30 H. P. roadster to sell for $1,000 and 2 30 H. P. touring cars to sell for $1,250.

The New Addition to the Buick Family, Model 19, 30 H. Power, $1,400 Fully Equipped as above shown.

This model is identical in quality and materials with the famous Model 17 Buick. Built for the man who wants a car somewhat smaller and lighter than the Buick 17, yet of exceptional but not extreme power. This car is far better in quality and efficiency than many other cars twice its price. We will find yourself welcome by asking for a trial spin by which you will be thoroughly convinced that the Buick has no equal.

J. T. WRIGHT
THE FATHER OF

SOAP

THE BURNING QUESTION

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO we opened a coal yard in the belief that good service and good coal would bring us business. We believed that prompt delivery of carefully screened, carefully selected coal would be appreciated by the public. Our constantly increasing business has justified our belief.

To our friends, patrons, customers, we extend greetings in a "Happy New Year," and solicit continued patronage on the old grounds: Good service, good coal. To those who are not our customers we ask but one thing—a trial order.

Kind of Coal

We have preferences in coal and recommend that which will give the most "burn" for the money—an important consideration these days. But people do not all think alike, and to satisfy every demand we carry a complete line, direct from the mine, of every kind of coal that comes into the Janesville market. Did you ever try our Coal? We only ask a trial order. We will then endeavor to so treat you as to gain your permanent trade.

How

When we sell you a ton of coal the order slip is placed in the hands of one of our yard men. He selects a team, goes to the car and with the aid of the teamsters screens and loads the coal. At the scales the coal is carefully weighed by a member of the firm to see that it has been properly selected, loaded and screened. The teamster then makes a bee-line for your coal bin. All this is done in less time than you would think it possible.

Why

Why all this care, this effort? The answer is simple—it pays. You may not know how we accomplish it, but the result is there—you can appreciate that. You will find sufficient reason in the result to bring you back to us again when your coal bin is empty. It is permanent trade that is valuable to us. That's why we do it.

Quality Coal

We are not selling coal at or below cost, nor "cheap" coal of doubtful quality. High grade coal that has stood the test to prove its excellent qualities for domestic purposes, is the kind we handle and sell cheap.

Coal carefully screened and put in with care; no dirt, no destroyed lawns and shrubbery, no broken fences and no battered bay windows.

A single trial asked and comparison invited.

A Woman's Approval Counts!

We want a woman's approval. What woman's? Yours, madame. It is that precisely for which every man in our establishment is laboring cheerfully and persistently. Suppose you gave a dinner party or an evening social; its success and your satisfaction would be in proportion to the graces and bright intellects of your guests. The success of your home depends on the attractions you bring into it. Thus in our Coal you will find a guest who has on tap at your bidding the choicest efforts for your success in catering to your friends either at dinner or socially.

Hot and lasting for use in the kitchen range.

Bright and glowing warmth for the parlor heater.

The next order for coal you give, try us.

PEOPLE WHO ARE SICK CAN BE MADE WELL

A New Science Has Come to Janesville

RAYMOND PUDDICOMBE

GRADUATE CHIROPRACTOR

Offices, 414-416 Hayes Block. Hours 9:00 to 12:00 A. M. daily except Sunday.

CHIROPRACTOR science an old truth learned in a new school. This science has been practiced successfully by me in Janesville, Beloit and in the entire Southern Wisconsin.

TODAY THE MAN OR WOMAN WHO SUFFERS FROM DISEASE, DOES SO FROM CHOICE RATHER THAN FROM NECESSITY.

This is a pretty strong statement but it is warranted by facts. Read on and see.

For months past I have announced through this newspaper my ability and my readiness to demonstrate the wonderful possibilities of the Chiropractic science in removing the cause of all forms of disease. I have told you candidly and truthfully that there was no mystery, no magic, no "healing" about my work. That it was not medicine; but that I had learned in a new school an old truth, and had at the same time learned its practical application.

The truth I learned was that to make sick persons well, and put them where they would stay well, you must remove the cause. The practical application of this truth is found in Chiropractic Science and ONLY in that form of wrestling with disease.

Through the Chiropractic science the cause of the following diseases are removed and sufferers made well—Asthma, Appendicitis, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Lung Trouble, Heart Disease, Stomach Troubles, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Bowel Complaints, Kidney and Bladder Disorders, Liver Troubles, Diseases of Women, Female Weakness, Epilepsy or Fits, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Eruptions, Muscular Troubles, etc., etc.

Here Are a FEW of the Things I Have Done

Restored Mrs. L. S. Rose, R. R. 7, Rockford to perfect health after she had suffered for years from Female Weakness in its most disheartening form. Stopped J. Keyes' rheumatism with three Chiropractic Adjustments. He was in very bad shape, too.

Mr. W. G. Gordon of Beloit suffered with Kidney Trouble. He came to me after several Chiropractic Adjustments was back in perfect health.

Miss E. Tank of Beloit had severe liver trouble. Three Chiropractic Adjustments settled the trouble for her.

Mrs. E. M. Salladay of Beloit suffered 17 years with Backache and Headache. It took less than that many days to remove every trace of the trouble in her case.

Several appendicitis suffers fully recovered after one week's trial of Chiropractic.

Several men and women with stomach trouble completely restored in six weeks.

After six adjustments a lady with eye trouble was able to see as well as the most perfectly healthy eyes can see. She does not even wear glasses now. One young man with chronic catarrh. In ten weeks as well as ever in his life.

These are only a few cases. Names of those only who wished their names used are given here. Proof on request. Watch my Advertisements for others and further information, but above all come and investigate for yourself.

Many other people who have been made well are willing to write me letters for publications, and I have many other letters, but space will not permit further publications.

To those who are ailing in any way, to those who have failed to get relief from medicine or operations, I urge that you call for an interview and consultation in regard to your case. There is no charge to be made for this, but it is your opportunity to judge for yourself what this great Chiropractic science will do for you.

Hundreds of others have been made well and are grateful and I will give you names and addresses of these people so that you can learn from them the wonderful possibilities of the Chiropractic Science and my ability to relieve the cause of disease.

$300,000 Worth of New Buildings in Janesville the Past Year

Bank accounts and hoards of money, bricks and plaster and other materials be partial indications of the wealth of a city, but more often the wealth of a city is more often the wealth of the municipality. That the year 1909 was exceptionally weak in the houses which make it good season for the builders and that, up, and the affluence or poverty of the inhabitants may be fairly judged by the amount of money that has been expended in building up new factories, new stores, and in new homes, or in making additions and changes in the old homes that they may be more comfortable and come up to the standards of modern life.

It such be so, Fortune, fickle dame that she is, has been very gracious to the citizens of Janesville.

While the year almost hundred and nine has not been noted for the exceptional number of homes springing up throughout the city, yet the average number usually constructed in the twelve months of the year has been no less than is usual and carpenters, masons, lathers, painters and

Big Game Hunting By WALT MASON

How joyfully, at break of day, I seized my gun and took my way, to leave the dreary town! "Perdurance," I said, "I'll shoot a bear, or chase a walrus to its lair, or run a rabbit down." I clambered over gates and stilets, and walked about ten thousand miles, and tried to think it fun; the gun, that was so light at first, when I had traveled forty versts, weighed fully half a ton. Misfortune dogged the path I took; I fell into a babbling brook, and swallowed half its flow; entangled in a barb wire fence, I used some language so intense it melted all the snow. At last I saw a blooming hare, and with the fury of despair, I aimed the gun and fired; I missed the wretched beast, of course; I merely winged a farmer's horse; what followed made me tired. They handed me up before the judge, who called my explanations fudge, and taxed me fifty bucks; the wilderness for me no more. I patronize the corner store for rabbits, coons and ducks!

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist.

DRINK LITTLE WITH PROTEID FOODS.

Proteid foods, of which beef, eggs, beans, nuts, whole cereals are representative, are digested chiefly in the stomach, where they need to be mixed with the gastric fluid secreted there. When any fluid is reduced to a liquid consistency, it tends to pass out. Carnivorous animals bolt their food. Evidently there is less objection to drinking after a fruit meal, or rice, or milk, which digests chiefly in the intestine, than to drinking much soon after a meal consisting largely of proteid. In the carnivora the stomach is much larger in proportion than in the herbivora. The infant's stomach is much smaller, comparatively, than the adult's. Its natural food is milk, an intestinal food. Milk, especially cow's milk, is not equally adapted to the adult. Milk and meat should not be taken together, nor rice and meat, nor fruit and meat. As the habit of thorough mastication is formed the demand for meat decreases. Recent experiments prove that when much fluid is taken with proteid food the putrefaction in the intestine is increased. The application of this principle in disease is important.

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M., M. D.

Forget, if possible, the sad things the years have brought to you. They are not important now. We live in spirit and not by decades. It should not really concern us whether we are seven or seventy if in our hearts there is the singing of birds and the sunshine that mellow the tree top and the whisper of winds that blow from far, far fields. You may have done more useful work in the world than in your dreams you anticipated. The surroundings of your home may not be so gorgeous as those of your neighbors, your garments not so fine, your face not so fastidiously prepared as if you had a chief instead of standing over a stove yourself; but account your service to the world no less accomplished, for if you have made that home in which you live resplendent by your graciousness, what truer happiness could mark to you? The doors that mark the portals of our progress should be hermetically sealed against the intrusion of disappointments that have beset us, the losses we have suffered, the achievements we fall short of, the envies that detracted from our living. We cannot cherish cynicism and foreboding, be the companion of discouragement and the apostle of despair, without missing what is best and truest in life.

Who Gave Him Away?
A grumpy stockholder of the Bank of England wants all women clerks discharged from the institution on the ground that they cannot keep a secret. Of course, it was wrong to tell him. He should have been more cautious.

Save Money—Read Advertisements.

Joseph M. Doetwrick, One Of Janesville's Leading Citizens and Prominent Merchants, Who Died January 25, 1909.

Of Course Not.
"How do you suppose she manages to keep up appearances on her husband's income?" "What is her husband's income?" "I don't know, but, of course, it can't be as big as it would have to be if they could afford to live as they do."

Warm Thanks.
A beggar woman who had begged a few pieces of turf on a cold day asked the doctor's wife for a live coal to kindle them. The request was granted, and the beggar woman, in an ecstasy of gratitude, exclaimed: "Thank ye, my lady. May you never want for fire through all eternity."

ALL THE YEAR ROUND.

Goat—it certainly is a treat I found this calendar. I'm fond of dates.

You Want a Business Education BUT WHAT KIND?

You want the business college training that will make you "EXPERIENCED". You are going to spend some months of your life and a number of hard earned dollars, and it is vital that you TRUST these to TRUSTWORTHY men. Remember you are going to take this training but once, and it is well "TO LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP."

Our Pillars of Strength

Our Model Office

Enables us to give our pupils more real work in actual office practice than can be gotten otherwise. Students going to our model office can do work that the graduates from other schools must work from three to five months in an office to equal.

20th Century Book-keeping

The student is taken through this system by gradual steps from the simplest Journal entry in a small business to the more complicated special column and loose leaf systems of a large Manufacturing Corporation. During this course, Bills, Notes, Checks, Drafts, Bills of Lading, Sales Tickets, Leases, Mortgages and numerous other papers are made out and handled daily until the student is thoroughly familiar with all the different forms. He deposits his money at our bank and must keep his check stubs in balance with his pass book.

He keeps time sheets, makes up pay rolls, attends to the collection, attends to paying the bills and figuring discounts, in fact does everything he will find to do when he goes to work.

Gregg Shorthand

GREGG SHORTHAND has become world-wide because it is a scientific system, based on enduring principles. Because it is simple, logical and practical. Because it has proved its worth in every field of human endeavor that uses shorthand. It has thousands of enthusiastic advocates from the humble beginners in school to the most expert court reporters.

Intercommunication System

Our boys and girls perform the business tasks that are found in regular office work. Transactions through the mails as they occur in every day business are made between our students and the students of our other schools. Our pupils do the thing they are taught and see the WHY and the HOW of it.

YOU WANT THE BENEFIT OF THE EXPERIENCE OF AN ORGANIZATION OF STRONG MEN COMBINED WITH MODERN METHODS AND COMPLETE EQUIPMENT.

GROWERS AND PACKERS OF

Pickles, Kraut and Canned Vegetables

Extends to All Janesville and Vicinity Wishes For a Happy and Prosperous New Year

THIS is our ninth year of successful operation in Janesville. From the first our business has shown development, increasing year by year, until today we operate in Janesville the largest canning and packing factory in Southern Wisconsin, besides others at Rochelle, Illinois, and Dubuque, Iowa.

We attribute our large and growing business to the "Quality" and "Purity" of our goods.

At Our Factory Strictly Sanitary Conditions Prevail

Our goods are all guaranteed under the United States Pure Food Acts of June 30, 1906, and pass the most rigid Pure Food laws made by any state in the Union. Each can of our goods must pass through the hands of from 4 to 6 expert inspectors before being put on the market.

Visitors Welcome

Visitors are welcome to call at any time and inspect this plant and view the interesting way in which modern food products are gotten ready for the market.

At Every Grocery Store

Our products will be found in every grocery store in Janesville and vicinity. We wholesale only. Specify our brands when you order canned goods and you will get the very utmost in quality, at popular prices.

Buy Janesville Made Goods

Don't spend your money for foreign made goods. Rather buy goods you are familiar with—home grown and home made goods—our goods. You will make no mistake when you tell the grocer you want any of the following named brands. These brands are divided into three grades: Fancy, Extra and Standard, all good—very good.

Grades and Names

1. FANCY: MAPLE LEAF, BOWER CITY AND DEWEY BRANDS.
2. EXTRA: PRIDE OF JANESVILLE, KEY CITY AND RIVERVIEW BRANDS.
3. STANDARD: BADGER STATE, A. 1., AND HOMELIKE BRANDS.

A Wise Way to Purchase

Many housewives find it a wise plan to purchase these goods in lots of three to six cans each, of the different kinds. There is an advantage in always having a supply on hand and, too, many grocers give a discount from the regular price on purchases of this kind.

WE own and operate farms and factories in Janesville, Necedah, Shennington and Millston, Wisconsin; Rochelle, Illinois, and Dubuque, Iowa.

Record of Fires the Past Year

The year 1909 was a notable one in that Janesville people suffered but little from fire loss and were fairly sure on retiring at night that they would not be suddenly aroused by a fire which might leave them homeless and almost destitute. In fact this past year has been a banner year for comparative safety from fire. In the history of the fire department there has been but two years, in 1906 when the loss totaled but sixteen hundred dollars and in 1907, when the loss has been less. The total damage caused by fire of all kinds will not exceed and probably will not amount to the sum of five thousand dollars. This is a worthy consideration when one compares the record of this year with that of 1908, when the losses amounted to over two hundred thousand dollars. The difference is probably due to the fact that in the past twelve months there have been no really large conflagrations.

The great fire was the one which destroyed the warehouse owned by John B. Ford on North River street and owned by Herman Lohmiller for storing hay and wagons in sheds. This conflagration occurred on April 1st, and almost totally destroyed the building, resulting in a loss of one thousand dollars. How the building caught fire is unknown.

A fire that caused considerable excitement was the one which started in the barn on the Monahan estate on South Jackson street on June 19. The ramshackle old buildings burned up like tinder and being almost in the heart of the business section endangered nearby structures. The fire was caused supposedly by sparks from a nearby chimney which resulted in a peculiar accident which resulted in $500.00 damage being done to the fire engine and was out at the Shields store on Logan avenue. A shot fired at a dog ignited the fumes from a gasoline tank and started the blaze.

Other large blazes were the one at the home of Philip Doherty on St. Mary avenue, resulting in $750 damage; the barn of Andrew Gleason on Western avenue, loss $675; the barn owned by Will Conrad on Monroe street, damages to building and contents, $350; the almost total destruction of E. D. Clapp's barn on Chatham street June 26, damages $282; and the incendiary blaze at the home of Mrs. Cannon in the house owned by Wm. Hollar, damage $270.

Fires at the home of John Kellner, Riverside street, did damage to the extent of $250 on May 25. The most recent fire at that home owned by Mrs. Parker and occupied by Mrs. Jennie Young, the total damage on house and contents being over $200.

There were quite a number of small blazes and many small blazes for which the department was never called out. Below is the record:

CORPORATION TAX
NOT APPROVED OF

MANUFACTURERS DO NOT LIKE ITS REQUIREMENTS.

~~MAY~~ MAKE A PROTEST

Many Associations Have Gone on Record as Opposed to the Measure.

"We don't particularly like it, but what can we do about it?"

That is what one Janesville manufacturer said of the corporation excise tax law this morning. All corporations are now filling out blanks in compliance with the law and they are

"That the law is not an excise law, but the tax it imposes is indirect, tax-able, and therefore unconstitutional."

In this district the returns will be made to the collector of internal revenue at Madison.

"The collector says that no information will be given out at his office concerning the contents of the returns, and points out the following section of the law:

"It shall be unlawful for any collector, deputy collector, agent or clerk, or other officer or employee of the United States to divulge or make known in any manner whatever not provided by law to any person any information obtained by him in the discharge of his official duty, or to divulge or make known in any manner not provided by law any document received, evidence taken or report made under this section except upon the much worked up over it. Local manufacturers are only joining with the general criticism of the law that is heard all over the country.

Corporations throughout the whole middle west of all sorts, sizes and descriptions are up in arms against the law. They are in a high state of perturbation over the publicity provision and are clamoring that it will work to their detriment by giving an inside line on their affairs to competitors. They are preparing to beseege congress for amendments and to attack the law in the courts on the question of constitutionality.

Manufacturers, merchants, supply men—in short, the heads of thousands of concerns that do business as incorporated establishments—are protesting against the law. Behind their complaints against the publicity idea runs a silent fear, expressed only in bursts of confidence, that the politicians will get access to the schemes when they are filed in the office of the collector of internal revenue, and that the political pull will place information concerning their innermost business affairs in the immediate possession of their rivals.

Corporation Fear Leaks

The law itself provides heavy penalties for any collector or other employee of the United States who divulges the contents of the reports, and it also provides that when the returns are made to Washington they shall be open to inspection as public records; but the corporations are afraid of "leaks" in the local offices through which the information in their schedules will trickle, as soon as filed, into the hands of their competitors.

The publicity section against which most of the protest is directed reads as follows:

"When the assessment shall be made, as provided in this section, the returns, together with any corrections thereof which may have been made by the commissioner, shall be filed in the office of the commissioner of internal revenue, and shall be open to inspection on such."

In addition to expressing their dislike for the publicity idea, the corporations are also contending that the law is unfair because it discriminates between corporations and co-partnerships, taxing the one and allowing the other to go scot free. They are protesting that the requirement of publishing inventories makes have the old systems of accounting puts them to an expense greater than the tax itself.

Complaints Pour Into City

The clamor is echoed in all cities throughout the Mississippi valley states. The Illinois Association of Commerce went on record last summer as against the entire idea of tax on corporations, and is maintaining that attitude, while the Manufacturers' association is working for amendment of the act, and is considering the question of starting a test to test the validity of the law. To a special committee will not in the preparation of amendments to the congress and will consider matter of taking the law into courts.

Among the legal fraternity there is a difference of opinion as to whether the corporation tax is constitutional. Many prominent constitutionalists, among them President Taft, maintain that the act does not conflict with the constitution.

Those who take the opposite of it argue that the law is unconstitutional on the following grounds:

That the federal government

special direction of the president; and any offence against the foregoing provision shall be a misdemeanor and punished by a fine not exceeding one year or both at the discretion of

To Pay Tax Under Protest

Notwithstanding this effort in the law to caulk up leaks in the offices where the returns are made, many corporations fear that their business competitors, backed by political influence, will find it easy to get the information in the returns long before they reach Washington.

The corporations have, until March 1 to file the returns, and the outlook for that in a number of instances, the scheduled protest, so that if the law should later be declared unconstitutional by the courts, the taxes can be recovered. This advice has been given wide circulation by the various associations interested in the matter, and forms of protest are being distributed to the corporations.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Labor organizations in Pennsylvania have started a gubernatorial boom for Congressman William B. Wilson, who is well known as a labor leader. Indications point to the reelection of U. S. Jackson as chairman of the democratic state central committee of Indiana, when the committee meets in January.

It is reported that Congressman Joseph Rhineck will quit politics at the end of his present term in order to devote his entire attention to his extensive theatrical interests.

Congressman E. J. Hill, who is said to be slated as the candidate of the "insurgents" for speaker of the next congress against "Uncle Joe" Cannon, has represented the Fourth Connecticut district in the lower house for the past fifteen years.

Political rumor has entered another candidate in the race for the seat of the late Senator Johnson of North Dakota. The new entry is Edward Engender of Fargo, a farmer judge of the eighth district of North Dakota.

Representative Phillip P. Campbell of Kansas, who is expected to push in the house the proposed investigation of the sugar trust, is a Canadian by birth, but has lived in Kansas since he was four years old. He is now serving his third term in congress.

Senators Cummins of Iowa, Clapp of Minnesota, Hristov of Kansas, Nelson of Minnesota and other "Maurer leaders have offered to take the stump in aid of Senator La Follette in the Wisconsin senator's coming campaign for reelection.

Do You Feel This Way

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work any of your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has man to forsake his home, and his family, and go out to forage for food, (the world left you?) If so, you need a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure a different individual. It will set your lazy liver to work. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. It will purify your blood, and it is a tendency in your family toward consumption. It keeps that dread disease at a foothold in the form of a cough, or blood-spitting from the lungs, it will bring about a cure, or a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V.
